Emixa acquires Nextage Group to further strengthen its presence and focus on Digital Thread leadership in the Nordics

Naarden / Stockholm – November 24th, 2025 – Emixa, a leading European digital transformation consultancy and trusted partner for Siemens, SAP, Mendix and integration technologies, today announced the acquisition of Nextage Group, one of the most respected Siemens Digital Industries Software partners in the Nordic region.

This strategic move marks a significant milestone in Emixa's European expansion and establishes a strong Nordic hub to support manufacturers across Sweden, Finland, Denmark, and the wider region.

A transformational step for Nordic manufacturers

This acquisition establishes a stronger Nordic operations base under the Emixa brand, enabling full support for the digital transformation lifecycle of both regional and international manufacturing customers.

Support from Siemens

Zandra Nilsson, Vice President & Managing Director Nordic Operation at Siemens Digital Industries Software:

"I am truly pleased to see Nextage become part of Emixa. Both organisations have consistently shown strong commitment to customer success, technical excellence, and a deep understanding of the Nordic manufacturing landscape. With Emixa's scale and Nextage's proven local presence, this new combined team will accelerate the digital transformation of Nordic industry with Siemens technology as a foundation. I look forward to working closely with the expanded Emixa Nordics team."

Strengthening Emixa's European footprint

This acquisition supports Emixa's strategic vision to create Europe's leading consultancy for Digital Thread and digital transformation. With strong positions already in the Benelux, DACH, and UK&I regions, Emixa now adds a fully operational presence in the Nordics – a region known for innovation and advanced manufacturing.

Peter-Jan Simons, CEO of Emixa, commented:

"This acquisition marks a new chapter for Emixa. Nextage brings deep industry knowledge and strong, trusted customer relationships. By onboarding Nextage, we are creating a Nordic powerhouse that combines local expertise with international scale. Most importantly, we are welcoming new colleagues whose talent and commitment will strengthen our shared vision. Together, we are ready to assist Nordic manufacturers accelerate their digital future"

Tapio Juurakko, CEO, founder and owner of Nextage Group, added:

"Joining Emixa is an exciting next stage for Nextage and our clients. We have built a solid foundation in the Nordics, and with Emixa's complementary technology portfolio and international experience, we can provide even more value and capability to our customers. We are proud to become part of the Emixa family."
